

SCHEDULE

This is a tentative list of workshops for the conference. The schedule is subject to change before the conference date.

Wednesday July 26, 2006 – Pre-Conference 1 PM to 5 PM Concurrent Sessions

Book Repair

Howell
Library

“Done properly, book repair is an effective preservation strategy that can extend the useful life of a collection and reduce replacement and binding costs.”

Wednesday's session will make it clear what repairs can best be done in-house and the most practical way to develop a program within your library to do them.

Specific repairs will be demonstrated, giving participants the opportunity for hands-on practice with the most common problems.

Krisan Gregson
Library Administrative Associate
Wake Technical Community College

Archives and the Community College

Howell
Library

The nuts and bolts of establishing an archives collection will cover these four main topics:

- Introduction to Archives
- Appraisal
- Arrangement and Description
- Preservation and Access

Jill Katte
Archivist for Student Life and Tech Services
Duke University Libraries

Janis Holder
University Archivist
UNC-CH Libraries

Cataloging in CCLINC

Howell
Library

Cataloging training class to learn the cataloging process used by CCLINC participants. Covers: CCLINC cataloging policies & procedures; Workflows procedures; Locating the right record; and SmartPort procedures.

Colleen Turnage
Director of Learning Services
NC Community College System Office

Thursday, July 27, 2006

8:00 AM	Registration - Continental Breakfast	Lobby Student Services Building
9:00 - 9:50 AM	General Session “Welcome to Wake Tech” Tommy Rhodes, Executive Vice-President Wake Technical Community College Program highlights Don Forbes, NCCCLRA President Technology Today and Tomorrow in Community Colleges Dr. Daryl McGraw, Chief Information Officer Wake Technical Community College A Word on NCLA Robert Burgin, NCLA President System Office Updates Dr. Bill Randall, Associate Vice President for Learning Technologies	Conference Center Auditorium
10:00- 10:30 AM	Break with the Vendors	Vendor Area

10:30– 11:20 AM

Searching OCLC/WorldCat via NC Live for CCLINC

Howell
Library

This class offers tips for searching OCLC/WorldCat through NC LIVE.

Colleen Turnage
Director of Learning Services
NC Community College System Office

iTunes University

Conference
Center
Auditorium

What is it? Planning and preparing presentations for delivery using the multimedia services of iTunesU. This has important potential for libraries and instruction via distance learning.

Matilda Kirby-Smith
Coordinator of Instructional Technologies
Guildford Technical Community College

Tutoring Resource Program
Centralized student learning resource program: Volunteers from the community, faculty, staff and peer tutoring

Room 250

Myra Blue, Dean of Learning Resources
Barbara Seymour, Learning Resources Coordinator
Pamlico Community College

Creating an Inviting Atmosphere for Diverse Populations

Room 251

The Community College System and libraries in general have long extended an open invitation to an amazing diversity of people. Within our libraries, how can we celebrate this diversity and create space, services, and policies to support and honor differences? This session will present ideas and open dialog for thriving in a diverse culture.

Crystal Baird
Associate Dean, Planning, Technology, & Library Services
Davidson County Community College

All is Fish that Comth to Net?

Room 206

This presentation is from a Master Trainer design regarding evaluating information on the World Wide Web

Christy Earp
Librarian
Wilkes Community College

11:30 AM – 12:20
PM

CCLINC User Group

Conference
Center
Auditorium

NC LITN User Group

Room 250

12:30 PM

Lunch

Includes musical treat from a sampling of Wake Tech's chorale department - Members: Naomi Sjostedt, Naya Kim and Mark Anderson under the direction of Greg Honeycutt, Instructor, Fine Arts Department.

Café
(1st floor)

1:15 - 2:00 PM

Special Guest

Dr. James V. (Jim) Carmichael, Jr.

Café
(1st floor)

Professor of Library and Information and Library Studies at The University of North Carolina at Greensboro. He has published numerous articles both within and without the library field on southern library history, gender issues, and gay and lesbian issues and has most recently edited a collection of essays entitled Daring to Find Our Names: The Search for Lesbian Library History. He is an active member of ALA and the Association for Library and Information Science Education and is a frequent speaker at various forums within both associations, and beyond.

2:00 - 2:50 PM

Britannica Online: It's Not Your Father's Encyclopedia

Howell Library

Looking for new ways to help students get started on their projects? Want to learn about the new research tools and exciting new content that have been added to Britannica Online?

This presentation will explore the recently expanded Britannica Online Academic Edition plus take a look at Annals of American History and Enciclopedia Universal en Español. All three of these databases are provided to community colleges through NC LIVE. Join us to get your questions answered and receive printed materials to take back to your college.

Hilit V. Kravitz
Director, Professional Development
Encyclopaedia Britannica

Poetry Reading and Discussion

Conference
Center
Auditorium

Please join this local author and poet as she reads from her published book of poetry and discusses the inspiration for her work.

Anita L. Gibson, author of "To Whom Much is Given Much is Required"

Ideas for Providing Library Services & Resources to our Distance Learning Community (Open Forum Discussion)

Room 250

Come share your experiences on providing library services and resources to your Distance Learning users and find out what other libraries have done. Share your thoughts on what we want to or should be doing to integrate services and resources into Distance Learning.

Denise Woetzel
Reference Librarian
Guilford Technical Community College

Basic Information Literacy in ACA 115 Study Skills

Room 251

Starting Spring 2006, the library was assigned an eight-hour block of ACA 115 to teach critical thinking/information literacy skills. Topics included clustering to narrow a topic as well as evaluating books, NC LIVE resources, and web sites for research purposes. Students were given pre- and post-assessments and were required to turn in a portfolio of their work. Attend this session to learn about the structure and content of the classes as well as what was successful and what needed refinement.

Lynn Gambon
Director of Library Services
South Piedmont Community College

Getting Something for (next to) Nothing: Free and Open Access Serials

Room 206

There are literally thousands of high quality and high demand serials available for free online. What are libraries currently doing to make these accessible to their patrons? Could we be doing a better job of tapping this low cost resource?

Tim Bucknall, Assistant Library Director
University Libraries
UNC-Greensboro

3:00-5:00 PM

Vendor Showcase

Conference
Center
Auditorium

Friday, July 28, 2006

8:00 - 8:30 AM	Continental Breakfast	Lobby
8:30 - 9:00 AM	General Session Announcements Mike Crumpton, NCCCLRA Vice President Value of Libraries in a Community College Ben White, Vice President, Curriculum Education Service Wake Technical Community College Central Carolina Community College Library & Information Technology Program Ellen Dickey, Lead Instructor & Advisor	Conference Center Auditorium

9:00-9:50 AM

Searching OCLC/WorldCat via NC LIVE for CCLINC using Connexion and CatExpress

Howell
Library

This class offers tips for searching CLC/WorldCat through NC
Live for non-CCLINC libraries.

Colleen Turnage
Director of Learning Services
NC Community College System Office

You've Got to Read This!: The Past, Present and Future of CPCC's BookMarks Book Review Program

Conference
Center
Auditorium

BookMarks is a successful book review program started one year ago by CPCC Librarians in an effort to reach out and involve the CPCC community in reading/literacy activities. This presentation will cover how BookMarks began, current marketing practices, how the events are planned and carried out, and future plans.

Jennifer Arnold, Senior Librarian
Gena Moore, Technical Librarian
Central Piedmont Community College

Ideas for Collaborating with Faculty (Open Forum Discussion)

Room 250

Come share your collaborative experiences with faculty and thoughts on what we want to or should be doing to build partnerships with faculty. Find out from colleagues how their libraries have collaborated with faculty on special events, projects, instruction, etc.

Denise Woetzel
Reference Librarian
Guilford Technical Community College

"Why Do We Have To Do This?"

Room 251

Teaching MLA Citation

What is MLA citation? Is it a modern form of torture? Is it a secret code that unlocks the mysteries of the cosmos? Or is it a necessary step in the research process? This session will cover how to introduce and engage students using MLA citation.

Jason Setzer
Reference Librarian
Davidson County Community College

"The Accidental Library Manager" - Who Am I?

Room 206

When confronting work tasks, have you ever given second thought as to why you do what you do? Well, theory and research support that all humans act and perform best when relying on their unique instinctual style. In this workshop, you'll discover the 4 "instinctual styles" individuals within a work unit employ to problem solve and accomplish work tasks. Participants will identify their instinctual makeup, then explore the implications when only one approach to "getting the job done" is embraced and supported.

Julia Lanham
Training Specialist
Public Library of Charlotte & Mecklenburg County

10:00 - 10:30 AM

District Breakouts

Conference
Center
Auditorium

10:30 - 11:00 A M

Break with the Vendors

Vendor Area

11:00 - 11:50 AM

Instruction Beyond Tours: What Do Libraries Have That Google Does Not?

Howell
Library

In a generation where students think Google before libraries as a source for finding information, how do libraries compete? This session will demonstrate a lesson plan used to increase library instruction statistics by 4.5% in one semester.

Suvanida Duangudom
Outreach Services Librarian
Wake Technical Community College

Mary Tucker
Reference Librarian
Wayne Community College

Wake AHEC Digital Library

Conference
Center
Auditorium

The AHEC Digital Library (ADL) is an online resource that improves access to current medical literature and other quality health information resources for North Carolina health care professionals. This session will provide an overview of AHEC services and will highlight the AHEC Digital Library Initiative.

Susan Hardee
Director of Library Services
Wake AHEC Medical Library

Stacy Rideout
User Services Coordinator
Wayne AHEC Medical Library

Beverly Richardson
Outreach & Preceptor Services Coordinator
Wake AHEC Medical Library

Britannica Online: It's Not Your Father's Encyclopedia

Room 250

In a generation where students think Google before libraries as a source for finding information, how do libraries compete? This session will demonstrate a lesson plan used to increase library instruction statistics by 4.5% in one semester.

Hilit V. Kravitz
Director, Professional Development
Encyclopaedia Britannica

11:00 - 11:50 AM

LibQual Consortium Grant Results

Room 251

Discussion of the results achieved by the spring LibQUAL survey administered by a consortium group of CC libraries

David Goble
Dean, Library Services
Central Piedmont Community College

ID Conversion for Colleague

Room 206

Open forum discussion on converting student ID numbers in order to comply with social security number directive

Ruth Bryan
Director of Learning Services Technology
NC Community College System Office

Deborah Foster
Access Services Librarian
Fayetteville Technical Community College

12:00 - 12:40 PM

Lunch

Café (1st Floor)

12:45 - 1:30 PM

Special Guest
Mary Boone, North Carolina State Librarian

Conference Center Auditorium

A native of North Carolina, Ms. Boone received her BA and MSLS degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She was director of the Chapel Hill (NC) Public Library from 1978 to 1985 and was a founding member of the North Carolina Public Library Directors Association. Since 1985 she has been a Foreign Service Library/Information Resource Officer with the United States Information Agency and the U.S. Department of State, with service in Asia, the Middle East, Europe, and Washington, DC. Her assignments included serving as the director of the Department of State's extensive international library program from 1999 to 2002 and overseeing the planning and establishment of the Jefferson Information Center, a new Department of State initiative incorporating its existing library and a new research service, from 2002 to 2005. The UNC-CH School of Information and Library Science presented her with its Distinguished Alumni Award in December 2003.

1:30 - 2:30 PM

Business Meeting

Conference
Center
Auditorium

District Reports
Procedure Manual Committee
New Officers
Treasurer's Report
Awards

2:30 PM

CCCLA Meeting

Conference
Center
Auditorium

HOME | REGISTRATION | SCHEDULE | EXHIBITOR INFO | HOTEL INFO | LOCATION | PLANNING COMMITTEE